

1 ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2 A decorative light has a first adapter integrally formed with the decorative light and a
3 second adapter integrally formed with the decorative light and opposed to the first adapter.
4 The first adapter has a collar slidably mounted on the decorative light and has inner thread
5 formed to correspond to the outer thread on the second adapter. Therefore, the total length of 6 the decorative light is able to extend by screwing the collar of one decorative light to the 7 second adapter of another decorative light. Furthermore, a plug is able to detachably connect 8 to the first adapter to protect the first adapter from damage.
